

I have over 20 years experience in the Australian recruitment industry and over 7 years in the oil industry internationally. Having fulfilled a variety of roles including Subsea Engineer, Sales Engineer to Divisional and Executive Manager, I have a unique combination of understanding & practical skills required in management and service deliveries. In Australia, I established successful new business divisions within Clements (Computerforce) and Speakmans (Speakman IT). I have helped numerous companies to find suitable personnel at all levels, from technical roles to Senior Managers - within industries such as ICT, engineering, defence, utilities, manufacturing, government, real-time software, animation/simulation, commercial, sales and marketing.

My current role in Adelaide Interim includes the provision of Recruitment Services & Advice.
